Keynote speaker, workshop leader, corporate training specialist, and executive coach with clients from such diverse areas as healthcare, sales and marketing, manufacturing and retail. high reviews from several attendees.

Engaging Style

All presentations and workshops are customized to audience, client objectives, and time allotted for delivery. However, presentations typically incorporate such highly effective elements as:

- Extremely animated oral presentation that incorporates practical examples and, often, humor to drive home main points
- Bold, imaginative presentation graphics that maximize visual impact and minimize text
- Short, highly engaging movie clips that demonstrate or reinforce key messages
- Small highly engaging group exercises and discussion
- Open Q&A
- Closing summary of key points that can be applied in the workplace and serve as reminders
